Emphasis of Matters

1. The ICD advanced by the company to the parties having outstanding balance of Rs. 1057.47 Lakhs have defaulted in paying the principal and outstanding interest. The above factors along with other matters indicate that a material uncertainty exists on company's ability to continue as going concern. The appropriateness of assumption of going concern is critically dependent upon the company's ability to raise finance to meet its obligation. However financial results have been prepared on going concern basis based on management's expectation of Improvement in the company's business in future.

2. During the year it is observed that company is facing liquidity issues due to which the company has not settled the statutory dues amounting to Rs. 331.81 lakhs outstanding for more than 6 months. The

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Results

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial results as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial results. As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial results, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion through a separate report on the complete set of standalone financial statement on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements in place and the operative effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial results or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial results, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial results represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial results/financial information of the entities of the group and to express an opinion on the Standalone financial results. We are responsible for the direction supervision and Performance of the audit of the entities of the group we remain solely responsible for our audit opinion/ materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the Standalone financial results that individually or in aggregate, make it probable that the economic
